

2017 Income to the State Increases Due to Contracts

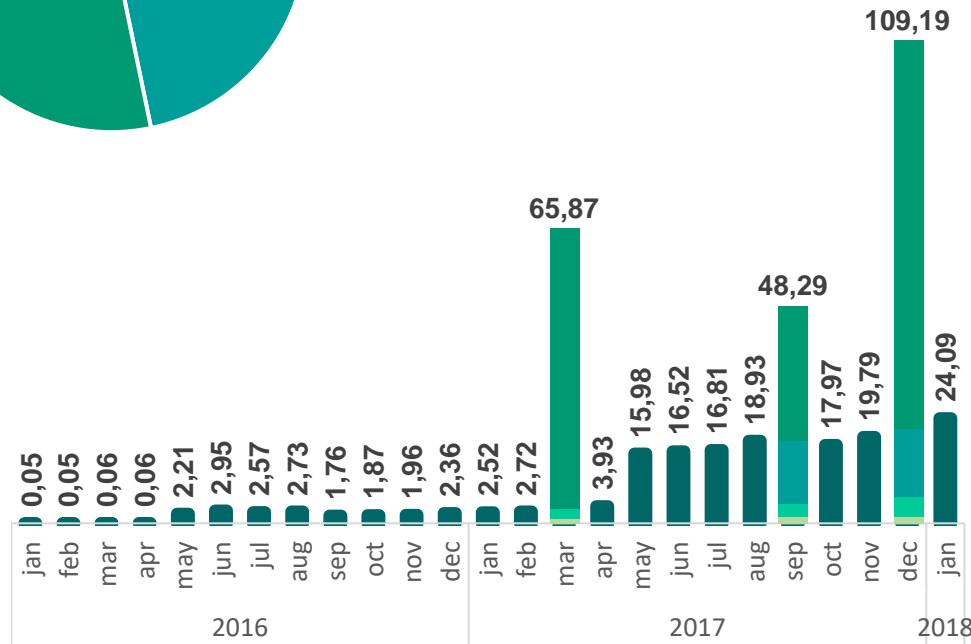

Published May 2, 2018

Contract income to the State 2017

- Contract Fees
- Royalties
- Sale of Hydrocarbons
- Signing Bonuses

Contract income (millions of dollars)

- The State received income from Hydrocarbons Exploration and Production Contracts in the amount of $339 million dollars during 2017, 18 times the amount received in 2016 ($19 million dollars).
- $180 million dollars of this income was generated by signing bonuses from tender rounds, $108 million from the sale of hydrocarbons belonging to the State, $36 million from royalties, and $15 million from contract fees.
- Income in January 2018 reached $24.09 million dollars, an amount 10 times the income received in January 2017 ($2.52 million dollars).

Source: National Hydrocarbons Commission, with information from the Mexican Oil Fund for Stabilization and Development. For further information, please see "Hydrocarbons Payments", as well as "Oil Companies in Mexico Interactive Dashboard" available at the Commission's Statistics portal.